DEDICATION

"If I could make some changes in the world, I would like to see human beings simply be more considerate of one another, to be more concerned with others, and demonstrate the ability to help someone else."

To many, this exemplifies the attitude of a man who has done much for Parker. He was, at one time or another, the director of summer school, Assistant Headmaster, and teacher of U.S. History, 7th and 8th grade math, first year Spanish and geography.

Before coming to Parker in 1958, he served his country for 27 years in the Navy. He was awarded the Bronze Star for action in the Philippines when the ship he was commanding was hit by a kamikaze.

He is enthusiastic about his work, empathetic with his students. He teaches because working with young people is intriguing and challenging to him. He tries to help strengthen their weaknessess by giving them a hand, hoping that eventually they will become stronger people. He does, as he says, "keep trying to help each person as best I can."

It is with great pride, appreciation, and affection that the 1973 CAVALCADE Staff dedicates this annual to Admiral Ralph H. Benson.

EDITOR'S MESSAGE

San Diego's climate knows no seasons, but student life at Parker certainly does. In the fall everything gets under way - classes, clubs, student council and Girls' League. Winter comes with basketball and holidays. Spring brings more activities and dramatic productions. And then summer is here and another school year is over.

The '73 yearbook staff has adopted a completely new format in the hopes of capturing the spirit of Parker student life as the year progresses. Our book is no longer divided into "Classes," "Sports," "Clubs," and "Campus Life." Instead, the divisions are "Autumn," "Winter," "Spring," and "Summer," and we've attempted to cover every aspect of the year from the first day when we meet faculty and friends, to the last day when we start summer vacation.

As you've noticed, we've also changed our name. CAVALCADE is defined as "a procession of people on horseback," and the staff feels that it suits both our new format and Parker's Lancer mascot. We hope that this name will be used in successive years and become a permanent one.

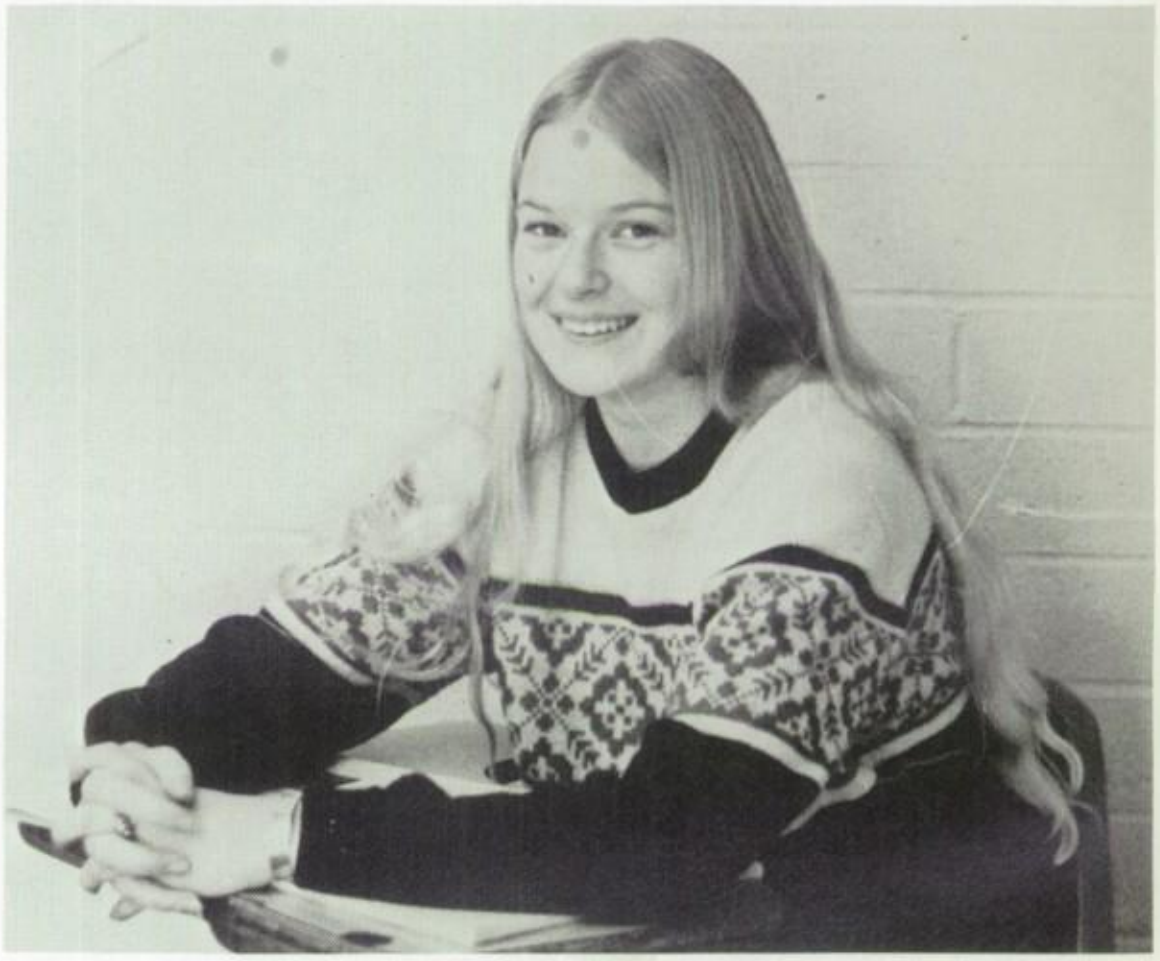
CAVALCADE '73 is different from past Parker yearbooks in that we have relied almost completely on student photography. I think all of our photographers have done a wonderful job, and I would like to thank all the contributors, especially Alex Szekely, Howard Eddy, Frank Taliaferro, and Paul Bell-Lee. Special thanks go to Keith Kaufman, who spent many hours in the dark room during his evenings and weekends.

I would also like to thank our advertisers and patrons for their financial help in making this book possible, and the Pischel Publishing Company for their cooperation.

But most of all, I would like to thank the CAVALCADE '73 staff, and our advisor, Mrs. Spain, who expressed confidence in us and kept us going when things got rough.

We have enjoyed facing the challenge of putting together a yearbook which depicts Parker student life, and we hope that you will enjoy reading through it.

Heidi Munzinger



HEADMASTER'S MESSAGE

TO THE CLASS OF 1973

After twenty years spent in education as a teacher and/or administrator, the question asked of me most frequently is, "Why did you go into education?"

The answer I gave twenty years ago seems more relevant and valid today than at the beginning. "In a group of students that I am trying to help learn, if just one of them is influenced or motivated to go on from here to a higher learning, then my efforts are all worthwhile."

You and I have seen Parker launched on a remarkable new era. There were some frustrations accompanying a new campus, new curricular offerings, new faculty, new responsibilities and freedoms but you adjusted to these rather gracefully. You worked with enthusiasm and determination to instill the student body with a sense of pride and spirit in the Lancers. Your academic accomplishments are equally impressive and your college acceptances reflect a tangible symbol of reward for your years of academic effort.

Each of you in your own special way, as you move on to "a higher learning" has given to me a greater sense of satisfaction than I have ever felt with thousands of students encountered in past years.

Your marks of excellence and high spirits will act as a "benchmark of success" for the many Parker graduates of the future. The Parker faculty and I deeply appreciate your contribution to the school.

My feelings for you are perhaps best summarized by the contemporary prophet, Jonathan Livingston Seagull: Jonathan's parting words to his prize student, Fletcher, were,

> "Look with your understanding,
> find out what you already know,
> and you'll see the way to fly."

Your race to learn has just begun!

HONOR SOCIETY

Dr. Crone greets dinner guests.

In September, a dinner was held for the students who qualified for the National Honor Society. It stood out among past dinners because it was held in the fall, instead of spring, so that work of the previous fall and spring could be judged.

The curse of a "Friday the 13th" had no effect on the Junior Honor Society initiates. An assembly was held for them on Friday, October 13th, in which they received pins and certificates.

Students honored at the dinner were, Joe Bagnall, Hunt Braly, Mark Brandon, Gary Chlad, Lynn Dewart, Roy Ehlers, Judy Fabion, Charles Fares, Keith Kaufman, Heidi Munzinger, Livia Szekely, Roy Holliday, Tom Lococo, Mark Allen, Dave Folkert, Jim Holt, Judy Hope, Marci Lawson, Jean Polhamus, Jeff Silberman, and Jenny Tchang.

Six man football made its debut at Parker this year. As the season progressed, our team became accustomed to the new rules and strategy, and the games became more exciting. A spirit bus accompanied the team to Chadwick for this game.

HOMECOMING '72

Preluded by a Homecoming Week in which anti-school-spiriters were punished for their treasonous acts at a Kangaroo Court, the Homecoming Game was a culmination of school enthusiasm.

During Homecoming Week, football players ruled the roost and were on the lookout for Parker no-no's. Offenders were brought before the judges, senior football players, by the other team members and appropriate sentences were meted out.

On Saturday, a valiant effort by our team came to naught as we lost to LJCD, 27-20. At halftime, Kelly Luce was crowned queen by President of the Board, Mark Rhoads. Judy Fabion and Livia Szekely were honored as the two Homecoming Princesses.

VARIETY PREVAILS IN FALL ASSEMBLIES

Highlights of the assemblies were a talk by a former P.O.W., the Thanksgiving program, and a fascinating lecture-demonstration of Kabuki, an unusual Japanese art.

Bob Chicca, who was on board the PUEBLO when it was captured by North Koreans, told about his experiences. He illustrated his talk with documents and pictures.

The Thanksgiving program at the Upper School was in the form of a chapel service. Reverend Richard Duncan was the speaker. He is the youth minister at the Kensington United Church of Christ. Andy Paine sang and accompanied himself with the guitar and harmonica.

Dr. Leonard Pronko, a foremost authority on Kabuki, visited Parker on December 1, with his assistant, Takao Tomono. They performed a segment of the play "Benkei at the Bridge," after speaking on the art. By putting on their outer garments and making up while Dr. Pronko spoke, they were better able to illustrate the fundamentals of Kabuki.

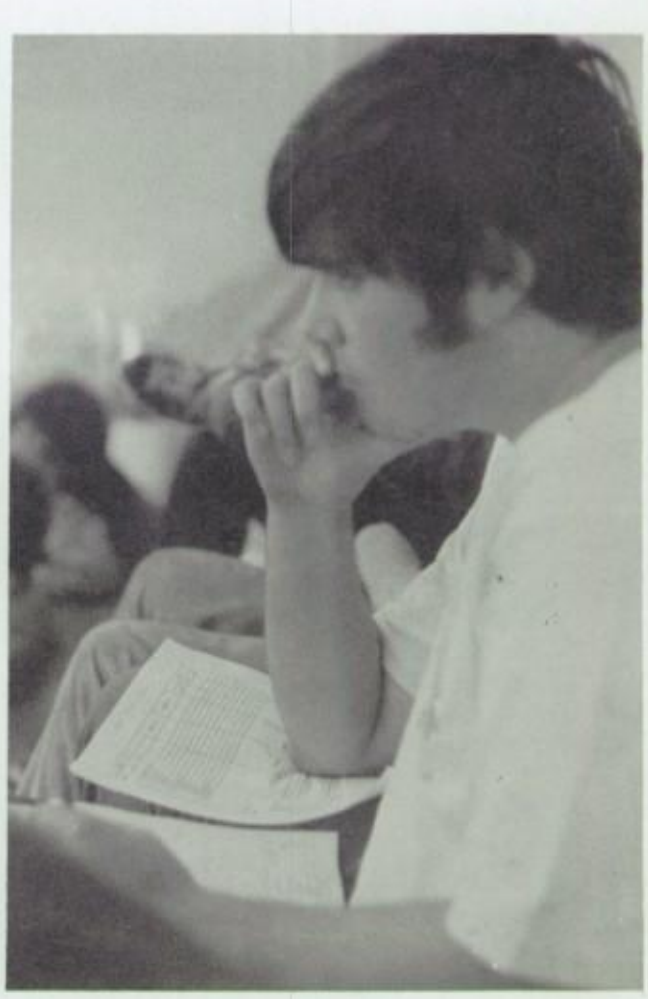
WINTER



HOLIDAY MOOD SWEEPS CAMPUS

Visions of Christmas and a two week vacation danced in the heads of Parker students. The first Christmas program put on by the Upper School was a success. Everyone from classes to choir got in on "the act."

Organized by the High School Student Council, the program consisted of three skits and several musical numbers. The 7th grade presented "Jingle Bell Travelog," and, joined by 8th graders, sang several musical numbers. Truly unique was the seniors' production of "The Night Before Christmas," to which they gave a humorous twist. Juniors Roy Holliday and Carla Buchanan sang and acted out "I Can't Dance." The girls' choir harmonized beautifully on Christmas songs.

The 7th and 8th graders went roller skating on December 15th for their Christmas party. The day after, the 9th-12th grades held their annual Christmas dance at the University Club, sponsored by the Mothers' Club. "Power" supplied the music.

Today, fans, we have with us ...

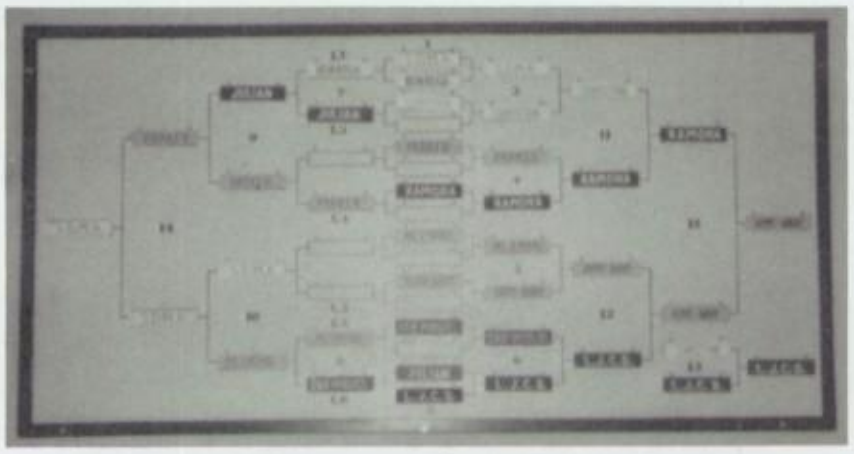
PARKER HOSTS LEAGUE BASKETBALL TOURNEY

Parker faced SDMA in the consolation round.

Parker hosted the Southern League Basketball Tournament this year for the first time. From December 5 through 9, the teams battled it out on the court, with the Army-Navy emerging victorious.

Having the tournament in our gym was beneficial to many. ASB card-holders could watch the games at no charge. The seniors ran a refreshment booth and made money for their year-end activities. Parents and visitors enjoyed exciting basketball in Parker's fine facilities.

With a strong possibility of having the tournament from now on, students look forward to making money through concession stands, and eliminating long bus trips to Ramona four days in a row.



Mr. Frost provided this board to keep fans posted during the tournament.

CARE* FREE GUM VS. THE SCIENCE FAIR

There was an amazing difference in the amount of student participation in the Science Fair and the Care*Free Gum contest.

Parker's Science Fair was to be held on February 22, but only Roy Holliday, junior, and Mike Devin, freshman, entered high school projects. Therefore, the official judges didn't come, and Parker was not represented in the Greater San Diego Science Science Fair this year.

On the other hand, students went all out on the Care*Free Gum contest. A massive effort by students and teachers showed Parker spirit at its best. At one time, the paper cutters couldn't keep up with the demand for 3"x5" cards on which to write the magic words. Dr. Crone even designated a special assembly period March 14 for the project. By the end of the contest, Parker people had written "Care*Free Gum" 233, 700 times! First prize was $500.00 and a concert by the Grass Roots.

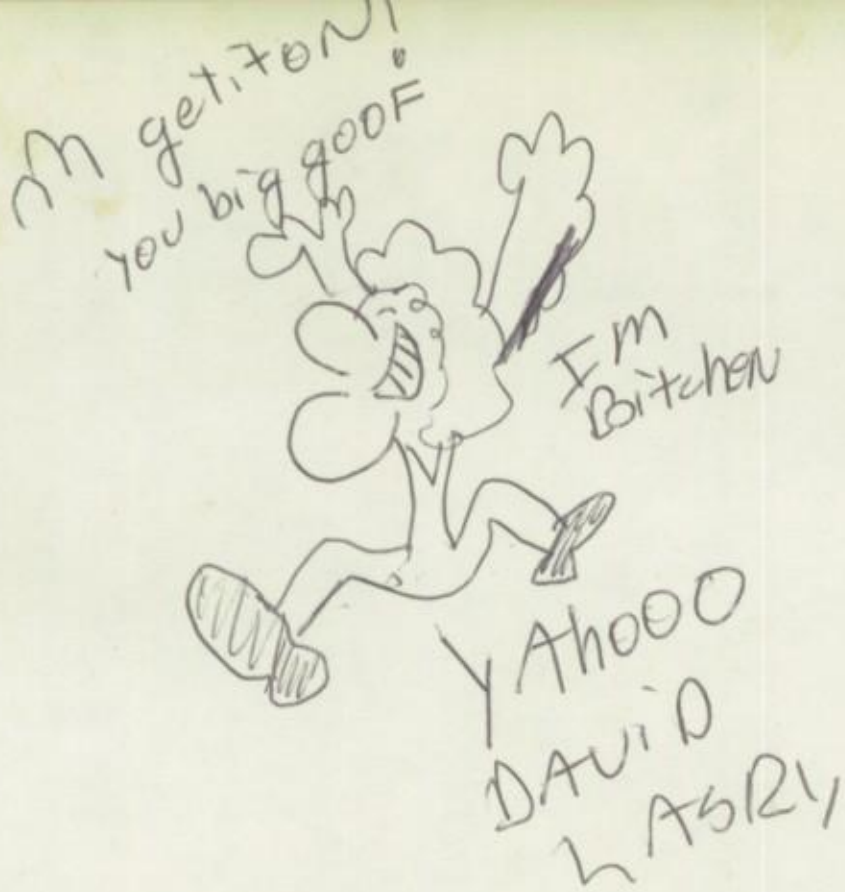
PISCHEL YEARBOOKS, INC.



Howard,

I can't remember what all I wrote in your last annual, but whatever it was still holds true.

I know I'm going to miss you, but there are those memories I can still hold on to (like shoppers mart!? remember?!?) Thank you for the beer steins & for your friendship, you're a super alright guy & good friend. Take it easy this summer & good luck forever,

Kim Beery

Howard,
I'm sorry
that your Book
got ripped off. It was fun in French. I wish you were coming Back.
Have fun this summer.
Love
Kelly

To my dearest "Hayne!"
Well I'm just got to leave yah, but you're a really sicken guy. Ok ya "poopsie!" No - I'm only kidding. Luck it cool, have fun at Aspen &
you better come back
because I won't have
anyplace close to wait
for fucking Bruce. That prick/Skill sometimes think it's a hell of a lot of fun to laugh just to be around ya! Fuck it Bruce does cocke - it's great to be around ya. Learn to ski! Catch ya later
cutie - Kat -
